

ROOSEVELT PLANS ARE APPROVED BY STATE BOARD

REBUILDING
WILL START

Business of much importance came before the meeting of the Richmond Union High School Board of Trustees yesterday at their meeting at Lincoln school. All members were present and A. A. Hughes presided.

A report was made by L. S. Stone, architect, that the plans for reconstruction of Roosevelt Junior High School have been approved by the state. As a result, after some argument, an emergency resolution was adopted, asking that the work be done at once.

Steel Bids
No bids will be asked, except for the steel to be used in the project, it was stated.

Under an emergency resolution approved by District Attorney J. F. Hoye, the board would have called bids for steel, plastering and carpenter work. Trustee Ira E. Scott of El Cerrito protested, declaring that his idea was to have local men do the work and that if bids were called "maybe someone in China would get the contract."

Pass Resolution
After a bit of wrangling, during which District Attorney Hoye was called on long distance, the board passed the resolution and omitted the phrases that called for bids on carpenter and plastering work. As a result, work will be started tomorrow on the building, it was announced. Efforts will be made to have local men employed.

Fire Report
Elmer Freethy, who will superintend the work, will be given his final examinations by the state today.

A report on the fire Monday night at the high school shops was made by W. T. Helms, superintendent of schools. Helms reported that although preliminary investigation had led to the belief that an oily rag in the pockets of an overall placed in a steel locker had resulted in spontaneous combustion, another theory had been advanced.

New Theory
The boy in whose locker the fire started was questioned yesterday and it was revealed that he had been working on welding work. As a result the theory is now held that a spark from the welding lit on the boy's overalls. (Continued on Page Eight)

Woman Flier
Fails In Try to Kill Self

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—UP—Mrs. Victorine Lederer, 40, noted aviatrix, was taken to Central Emergency Hospital tonight in critical condition after an asserted suicide attempt.

Police said she fired two pistol shots into her abdomen. Mrs. B. H. Cochran, manager of the hotel at which Mrs. Lederer stayed, said the aviatrix was despondent and in financial difficulties. She parted from her husband six years ago.

Mrs. Lederer came here two months ago on one of her frequent visits from the East. She gained public attention in 1931 when she shook dice with four men pilots at San Jose to decide which would attempt the first solo flight from Hawaii to San Francisco. The flight was cancelled.

Labor Pays Anglim
High Compliment

After investigating the comparative record of members of the Legislature on matters affecting labor during the past twenty years, particularly with reference to representatives from this district, organized labor yesterday highly praised the consistent advocate of labor legislation, by Assemblyman Clifford C. Anglim of this county in communications received yesterday from H. See, Legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and C. F. Irvine, chairman of the California Legislative Board of Firemen and Engineermen. They found that he had achieved a labor record never before equaled by a representative from this district.

In his communication the state representative of the B. of R. T. states: "I have just been checking over the records in this office showing a comparative standing of members of the Legislature during the past 20 years and I find that you stand higher on our comparative list than any member of the Assembly from your district during that time."

C. F. Irvine, representing the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineermen states: "At this time I wish to take the opportunity to thank you on behalf of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineermen for your splendid and consistent support of measures sponsored by labor, which we believe were constructively for the benefit of the people."

STATE LIQUOR TANGLE MOUNTS
RANCH FORECLOSURES HALTEDU. S. JURIST
HALTS SALE
IN COUNTY

Sale by foreclosure of a 60-acre ranch in Contra Costa county was halted in San Francisco with action taken yesterday by the Federal courts and a federal judge who set out in person to see that the court order was observed.

By this action 16 other farms in the county were saved from similar proceedings.

Saves Ranch
Dwight W. Jones, who lives near Walnut Creek was the man whose farm was saved from the sale.

To save Jones, three U. S. court jurists, F. H. Kerrigan, Harold Louderback and A. F. S. Sure went into session yesterday morning.

Name Consultant
Under the new Federal measures affecting farm mortgages, they ordered the Jones' foreclosure sale halted.

They appointed John L. Garaventa, Concord attorney, as "consultant" in the Jones foreclosure and the sixteen other pending foreclosure sales. Lending a dramatic touch to the court proceedings, Federal Judge St. Sure decided to go and see that the sale was halted.

Race Started
The sale was scheduled for 11 o'clock at Concord. Judge St. Sure missed the ferryboat. He tried telephoning Sheriff R. R. Veale at Martinez, but could not reach him.

Veale was on his way to Concord to conduct the foreclosure sale. So the Federal jurist got City Marshal Rosine of Concord by phone.

Orders Sale Stopped
"Find Sheriff Veale and tell him the United States Court has ordered him not to hold that foreclosure sale," he told Rosine. (Continued on Page Eight)

Felon Is Guilty Of Kidnaping

John Velde, who kidnaped a deputy sheriff and his wife at Richmond more than a year ago, was found guilty by a jury at Los Angeles last night, according to wire reports received by the Record-Herald.

Velde, who was charged with kidnaping, will be sentenced by the court on Friday.

The man was being taken by Deputy Sheriff William Clark and Mrs. Clark of Stockton to San Quentin prison where he was to serve his sentence.

Seize Car
About midnight on the evening of the escape, the car in which the three were riding drove up Cutting boulevard and headed for the Richmond-San Rafael ferry. Near the ferry pier, Velde succeeded in slipping off his handcuffs.

Climbing to the front seat of the machine, the felon over-powered Clark, seized his gun and took control of the car.

Velde, Clark said, forced him to turn the car around and to drive away, headed for Los Angeles.

The car, with the convict and the two terrorized passengers, arrived at Los Angeles about noon the next day. Velde forced Mr. and Mrs. Clark to leave the car and then drove away.

Upon reporting back to Stockton, Clark was relieved of his badge and dismissed from the force.

Velde was captured several weeks ago.

For Injuries in Auto Accident

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—A suit for $15,132 damages for personal injuries filed as the result of an automobile collision at Central and Lexington streets, El Cerrito, was on trial today before a jury in Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie's court.

John Semas and his wife, Frances, are plaintiffs in the action against Catherine Davidson and others.

It is claimed that Mrs. Semas was injured in October, 1932, when the Semas car collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. Davidson.

Those selected on the jury were: Mrs. June Lloyd, Berger Andrews, Mrs. Eliza Calfee, Mrs. Grace Farosich, J. E. Robbins, Mrs. Alberta Prosser, Mrs. Elsie Farrow, Carl Rasmussen, Mrs. Francis Lods, Mrs. Edith Cordua, Mrs. Grace Fawcett and Henry Reinstein.

Nude Dancers
Are Freed By Woman Jury

OAKLAND, Nov. 4.—UP—A jury of 12 women tonight after long argument found that four chorus girls and three comedians from a downtown burlesque were not guilty of staging an indecent performance.

The jury deliberated from 8 to 10:30 p. m. A considerable crowd of "fans" who attended the spicily trial throughout awaited the verdict.

Chorus and handclapping greeted vindication of the "strip and fan" dancers given in the name of art by Phyllis Lane, Dorothy Shannon, Millie DeVore and Virginia Nell, and the "aside" comments of comedians Jack Romiz, Robert Clark and Hermie Rose.

The comely young dancers converged with tears of joy upon their attorney, David Oliphant, who sought refuge behind the portly form of Judge Bacon.

It was Attorney Oliphant who pleaded today.

"The standard of morals has changed. May West lines are not considered vulgar because they are generally accepted. But in the '90's she would have been ruled off the stage."

The trial was featured by the performance of two policemen who interpreted the wiggles of a fan and strip dance.

Power Strike
Is Started By
Valley Farmers

MERCED, Cal., Nov. 14.—UP—The United Farmers' league today urged a "power strike" in Madera county. Farmers were asked to pay but half of their electric bills.

The "strike" was called after a dispute between the league and the San Joaquin Light and Power Co. The firm shut off service to Leonard D. Blue, Chowchilla rancher, for asserted failure to pay monthly bills.

The league met en masse and restored service to the ranch by tapping the company's lines.

The company promptly cut off power again.

Rum Regulations Up
To Equalization Body

Regulations affecting the sale of liquor in the state after the national repeal law goes into effect next month, is becoming a tremendous problem to the state officials.

Under an opinion of Attorney General U. S. Webb, hard liquors cannot be taxed by the State Board of Equalization, and this latter body has already receded from its stand announced a few days ago that it intended to collect a tax on "hard" liquor.

LAW IS TOLD

Under the state law, any person, who has not been convicted of a felony, can secure a state permit to sell liquor in packages to be consumed off of the premises. Even a person who has been bootlegging for years will be able to get his visa.

The enforcement of the new state law is in the hands of the state board, even to its police provisions.

Cities Helpless
No authority is given counties, or municipalities in any manner whatsoever.

The only remedy to the woeful mess that now confronts the people of the state, and practically the unregulated sale of liquor, is through the legislature at a special session.

Conferences Held
Conferences are being held daily among state officials, in an attempt to bring about some solution, but there seems to be but little hope.

Yesterday in Sacramento, Fred E. Stewart, member of the State Board of Equalization, issued a statement in which he said that information concerning ex-bootleggers and others who may apply for licenses when repeal goes into effect will be welcomed by city police officials and district attorneys.

Violations of Code Charged
Apple Packers

WATSONVILLE, Nov. 14.—UP—Five well known Watsonville apple packers and brokers were arrested today on charges of violating the CRA apple code for central coast counties.

The arrests marked the initial attempt to invoke drastic penalties provided in the code adopted October 4, it was asserted by District Attorney John McCarthy.

The complaints were signed by M. M. Morrison, manager agent of the code committee who alleged that violations are widespread. The code provides a $500 fine or six months in jail, or both, for violations.

Auto Crash Ends
In $10,000 Suit

MARTINEZ, Nov. 14.—Oscar Levens filed suit for $10,030 damages in superior court late today against Steve Stocco and George Frosini, for injuries he claims he received in an automobile accident in Richmond early this month.

The plaintiff charges that on November 8, 1933, an automobile he was driving collided with a machine driven by Stocco, agent of Frosini, at Cutting boulevard and Forty-third street.

Levens suffered a wrenched back, injured chest and eyelid and wrenched spine, it is claimed.

3 Girl Inmates

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—UP—Miss Clara Smith, nurse, was beaten and locked in a room by three women inmates of Detention Ward L at the San Francisco hospital tonight.

Escape of the trio Francis Myer, Irene Hill and Rose Lopez was prevented by a watchman who seized them as they fled toward the outer door of the hospital.

Sea Flight
Is Planned
By Lindberg

CLEVELAND, Nov. 14.—UP—Reports persisted here tonight that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh planned to make a non-stop flight from Lisbon, Portugal, to New York.

The flier, here with Mrs. Lindbergh on an aerial tour of Europe, refused to confirm or deny the reports and retired early tonight, preparatory to departing in the morning for Lisbon in their seaplane.

A report around the (imagined) of the populace and Lindbergh was followed wherever he went by newspapermen who sought to elicit some statement from him. He remained characteristically silent.

It was believed that Lindbergh would be the next stop. He was on his way there when forced to alight on the Minto river here on the border of Portugal by bad weather yesterday.

It was doubted that Mrs. Lindbergh would accompany the flier if he attempts the return by air. She would return to the United States by boat, it was believed.

RINGING
CHARLES GLUM

The Richmond Producers company and the Ben Maliks may have been the first local teams to open their season in defeat but both teams showed enough at Crockett Monday evening to warrant their being strong contenders in the Richmond City League.

The local high school hoopers open their season against McClymonds of Oakland at McClymonds on November 21 and from present indications show shape up as a formidable outfit. Daily drills in pass and defense work have been practiced constantly by the Oilers. Paul Moitza, three star man in football, baseball and basketball, should have another great season as forward on the prep quintet.

When Carroll Pitchford, former St. Mary's star, rounds into shape, he should bolster the Produce team considerably on defense. At college Pitchford was known as a brilliant standing guard and his knowledge of the game will help the Produce chances immensely. Pitchford showed that he had lost none of his former cunning in the exhibition he displayed at Crockett when the Produce dropped their first appearance of the season.

The Civilian Conservation Corps hoop aggregation may go places in the City League with a few practice games under their belt. Almost all of the youths in the camp are basketball players and when the wedding out process is completed they should be well fortified in talent. A young man by the name of Brock a tall and rangy center, acts as captain and is in charge of the team.

The Gordon brothers should have another fine season on the court. Both have kept in splendid condition. These brothers make the most difficult shots look easy from the comparative ease in which they pull the hoop from different angles. Walter Gordon and his brother are both with the Richmond Produce team.

It is not known for certain at this writing, but it is a good guess the Caesar Bertone, Rowdy Dyer, and Joe Baldwin will be out on the court strutting their stuff for the Connell Chevies.

Viano and De Baere have not signed with any club as yet, but as both are splendid floormen their services should be in demand before long.

George Cornell seems to get better with each successive season. This will be his eighth or ninth year competing in city basketball.

The Ben Maliks have a forward named Faust on their roster and should this young chap keep up the fine performance he turned in at Crockett, the Maliks' chances will take a rise.

Anthony Moitza continues to play his rugged game at guard. Moitza is an effective guard and opponents usually find him a "rock of Gibraltar" to penetrate. "Mose" should go well with the Produce team this season.

A complete roster of the personnel of each team in the City League will be announced soon from the offices of I. W. Hill, City Recreational director.

Using the 'Bean' in A Play

IT TOOK nerve, with a capital "N," for Art Ahonen, Washington back, to call the play he did in Saturday's game with University of California, at Berkeley. Behind his own goal line with the opposing squad and spectators alike expecting a kick, Ahonen heaved a long pass to Muczynski for a gain of 19 yards on Washington's own 19 yard line. B. Brittingham, California end, and Johnny Ransom, tackle are trying to reach ball.

'Scooter' Got Away

Speaking Of Sports

LONDON, Nov. 14.—UP.—British lends its tacit approval to the race, and United States yachtmen have at last buried the hatchet, after nearly 40 years.

This is one result of the announcement that T. O. M. Sopwith, the wealthy British airplane designer, has challenged for the America's Cup, with a new steel yacht. Endeavour.

Endeavour, whose keel shortly will be laid down, will fly the burgee of the Royal Yacht Squadron, of which Sopwith is a member. No squadron yacht has challenged for the Cup since 1895, when the Earl of Dunraven's Valkyrie suffered defeat. That contest occasioned much unpleasantness and one result was that Lord Dunraven was asked to resign his membership of the New York Yacht club. Subsequently the belief arose that the leading British club would have no more to do with the race.

The long series of Shamrock attempts did nothing to dispel this legend. All of the late Sir Thomas Lipton's challenges were issued in the name of the Royal Ulster Yacht club, although by the time of his last attempt Sir Thomas had become a member of the R. Y. S.

Now at last the royal squadron

SAN JOSE, Nov. 14.—UP.—Indications that a development in the kidnaping of Brooke L. Hart, 22, impended were seen tonight when guards were withdrawn from the estate of Alex J. Hart, his wealthy father, and maids freely answered the doorbell and telephone.

Stricter vigilance that barred entrance of newspapermen and curious citizens had been enforced since the blond Santa Clara university graduate disappeared last Thursday.

CARTOON NEWS

'MY WOMAN' IS AT THEATRE ON THURSDAY EVE.

Superb performances by an excellent cast, intriguing musical romance and drama in "My Woman" which comes to the Fox theater tomorrow, mark the film as an outstanding entertainment.

The cast is topped by Helen Twelless, Victor Jory and Wallace Ford. Claire Dodd and Warren Hymer have parts that are small, but perfectly handled.

In locale, the choice is unique. Most of the action transpires in a big radio broadcasting station, and a trip through the station, with its multitude of audition and operating rooms, is interesting in itself.

This setting provides an ideal spot for the excellent music, composed by the director, Victor Schertzinger, for the picture. "My Woman" and "I Knew" offerings, as well as the incidental music in the picture, are musical; the songs show promise of becoming popular tunes. Incidentally, Schertzinger wrote thirty-one numbers in "My Woman," the same name.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14.—UP—Filmland's cowboys are given the drug stores back to the cinema.

They're turning in their cow ponies as down payments on second hand flippers and they're trading chaps and spurs for neat but not new dinner coats.

The block on Chahuenga avenue between Hollywood and Sunset boulevards, once known to the town's cowboys as "the water hole," has seen practically all its saddlery shops disappear. There isn't a pair of good horse less in a hundred.

And now, as a final and unintentionally heavy blow, George O'Brien has walked out on the cow ponies altogether. That's right, from George of the Indiscreet Woman and cold nerve, hero of many a western thriller, has come a sudden man.

George has bought a quarter of north hills and wrapped his saddle blanket, spurs, six gun and cartridge around them. He's disposing of his stable of horses and has bought his last pair of cowboy boots.

The completeness of his transformation will be realized as he is seen in his next picture, "Two Gun George." The title, "The Hero to the Horse," he has the plot.

Things have gone so far that they're even considering changing the name of the "western street" at Fox Movietone city, known for the last four years as "O'Brien Avenue."

Tom Mix is touring the country with his wild west show, Bill Roy is devoting his time to writing, Roy Bell and Ken Murray have said goodbye to the horse opera.

Ten galleon hats are more and more a rarity. Spurs are practically unknown. A horse's whinny would scare most of the movie stars' peacocks to death.

Altogether, it's pretty rough for the drug store cowboys.

Mary McCormick

Divorced From Prince Serge

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—UP—Prince Serge Midvian of Georgia, who told his wife to "remember always you are a princess," was divorced today by Mary McCormick, operatic star.

Less than a month after Max Murray divorced Serge's brother, Prince David, the singer recited an imposing array of charges that like wise won a decree.

Prince Serge, one of the three "marrying Midvians" from Russia, previously had withdrawn his consent to divorce and agreed to a property settlement, allowing Miss McCormick to obtain an uncontested divorce.

An emphatic witness most of the time, Miss McCormick grew hesitant when asked to repeat profanities which she claimed Serge uttered.

"About once a week he would rise into a rage over little things and become very vulgar and abusive," she said. "He would tell me to get a divorce."

"Did he allow you any friends?" Miss McCormick was asked.

"No," she replied. "He would say he had married below his station in life. He would say I must remember always I was a princess and must not associate with common people."

Prince Serge struck her and threatened to maim her, she charged, only after considerable urging would she repeat some of the profanities.

WITNESSES IDENTIFY 2 OF GANG

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 14.—A dentist who studies facial constructions and a window trimmer who "likes to watch people dig wells" identified two men today as members of a gang which kidnapped William Hamm, Jr., last summer for $100,000 ransom.

The dentist and the window trimmer testified at the trial of Roger Touhy and four members of his gang on charges of violating the so-called "Lindbergh" law by taking a kidnapping victim from one state to another.

Daniel Rush, 25, the window trimmer, pointed out Willie Sharkey as the driver of the automobile in which Hamm was taken away last June 15.

Dr. Horace Lablansiere, the dentist, pointed to Touhy himself as the man who left a ransom note in a drug store.

Rush, a surprise witness said he liked to watch workmen dig wells and loitered during his lunch hour this kind to watch some men doing this kind of labor. Because he loitered, he said, he happened to be nearby when two men kidnapped Hamm. Rush said that Sharkey drove the automobile. The government previously had encouraged a general belief that there were no witnesses to the kidnapping.

Dr. Lablansiere said he remembered Touhy because his professional work led him to study, closely the faces of all persons whom he happened to see. While in a drug store in June, he said, he saw Touhy there and noted carefully Touhy's hard set facial expression. A short time later a ransom note was found in a telephone booth in the store.

The day's testimony gave added emphasis to the use which the federal government made of apparent insignificant clues in tracking down the Touhy gangsters.

After identification of Sharkey and Touhy, only one of the four men on trial remained to be identified in court. He was Gus Schaeffer. The fourth defendant, Eddie McFadden, previously was identified by Hamm himself, although Hamm later qualified this identification.

Government officials announced that an attempt would be made to have John (Jake) the Barber, a Chicago testily in the trial.

Factor was kidnapped within a few months of the Hamm abduction. The government claims that the same gang was responsible for both crimes.

smoldering there in the locker and then broke into flames.

Helms reported that the insurance company had its inspectors and adjusters on hand yesterday and will repair the damage thoroughly. Local men will probably be employed on the job, which calls for replacing of a portion of the flooring, rafters, trusses, walls and sky-lights.

Machinery Unhamed

Helms stated that the machinery in the shop was not damaged, although lathes were covered with dirt, water and soot. The insurance adjusters hired the boys in the shop to clean up the machinery.

A petition from Pinalo students that their school bus be heated was turned down by the board.

Transportation Problem

Helms reported that nothing has been done so far by the Key System on the question of transporting children to school. However, he stated, W. P. St. Sure of the company is studying the plan. So far, he stated, the company is held up by lack of rolling stock. Helms also reported that work on the new high school turf field for the football squad is progressing rapidly.

To Get Track

A. A. Hughes then suggested that a cinder track be placed around the field for the high school track men. The money will be used from the funds turned over from the school co-op store to the school board.

Helms stated that he has been asked to inspect the Piedmont high school cinder track to get an idea for the work.

Insurance Question

Charles Brown, who was a spectator, questioned the board as to its liability for boys injured while playing football at the high school. He was informed that the students themselves take care of this angle and that the board could not be held liable as football was not a recognized part of the school program.

W. J. Hislop reported on a recent survey of insurance men made. This list was turned over to the board. Insurance men of the city will pro-rate school insurance coverage.

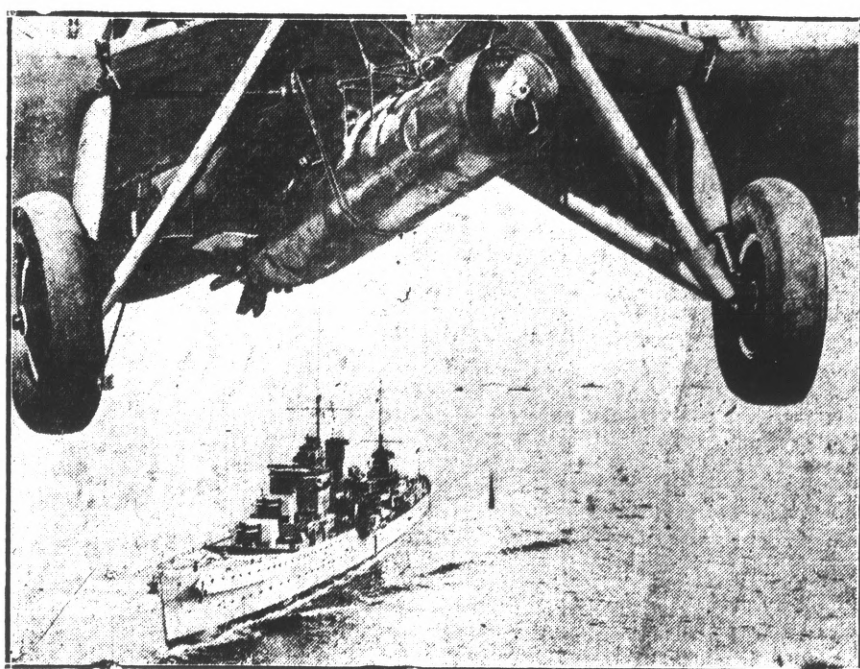

Rents in Shanghai, China, continue to climb.

STRIKER WIDOW ASKS $75,000 OF FARMERS

VISALIA, Cal., Nov. 14.—UP—Eight cotton ranchers were named defendants today in a $75,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Macedonio D'Avila of Tulare, widow of a Mexican, slain in a strike riot at Pixley October 10.

The woman charged in the suit that her husband Delfino, said to be a representative of the Mexican consul at Monterey, was "maliciously shot and killed" by the eight ranchers. The defendants, all of whom were named in grand jury indictments, are free on $15,000 bond each.

Mrs. D'Avila asked $50,000 for loss of her husband's support and $25,000 exemplary damages.

U. S. FAILS TO BREAK STRIKE OF HOG BUYERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—UP—The federal government failed today in its second attempt to break the deadlock which has paralyzed hog trading here for nearly a week.

An agent of the federal surplus relief corporation was authorized to purchase 900 head of swine which were held over from Monday's market and which proved an added burden on today's trading.

There have been no sales of consequence at the Union stock yards since last Wednesday. Principal packers have offered salesmen $1.35 per hundredweight for hogs but salesmen have held stubbornly for higher prices, thereby creating a stalemate. The situation is unprecedented in the history of the Union stock yards.

In its effort to break the disagreement between the packers and salesmen, the government today paid the price demanded by the sellers, $4.60 down for choice animals. With today's sales the government has bought 28,000 pigs and hogs remain in the yards as holdovers from today.

Small city butchers came into the market today and paid as much as $4.25 to salesmen for packings and underweight pigs and salesmen claimed a moral decision over packers. Leading commission men, however, countered with the claim that "the fight has just begun."

The packers complain that prices asked by the salesmen are out of keeping with conditions and that packers stand to lose large amounts of money if they meet the demands of the salesmen. The salesmen, on the other hand, are pledge to farmers to keep the price of better grade swine at $4.50 per hundredweight or better.

Packers have solved their problems by bringing in their daily supply of hogs in direct shipments from farms. In these transactions, they pay the farmer his price, but keep the transactions off the records so that it can't have any effect upon the market.

Vard officials see no relief in sight. All but 1500 of the 28,000 hogs bought by the government are standing in the yards. A contract was let today to the Illinois Packing company to kill 4500 of them, 1500 a day, and prepare them for relief purposes.

SARRAUT WINS IN TEST VOTE FOR DEPUTIES

PARIS, Nov. 14.—UP—The government of Premier Albert Sarraut passed its first crisis tonight when the Chamber of Deputies gave the administration a vote of confidence on its foreign policy.

The vote came after several days of sharp debate during which the policy was assailed by the opposition parties, led by the left centrists.

The vote was based entirely upon premier Sarraut's outspoken references to Germany and his assertion that France was in readiness to act if Chancellor Hitler makes an overnight move. Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour had declared in an outline of the government's foreign policy that Germany's rearmament plans will force France to enter the "armaments race."

Sarraut intervened in the debate during which bitter criticism of Paul-Boncour was launched by the Nationalist Deputy Louis Marin. Sarraut said:

Quentin Felon In Demand For Habeas Corpus

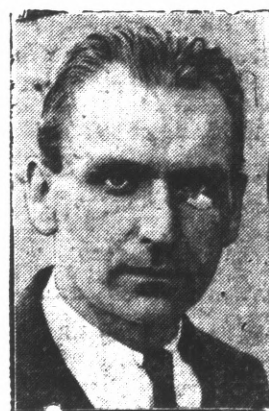

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 14.—UP—A hearing on the writ of habeas corpus asked by Evan B. Seltz, sentenced to San Quentin for robberies that included an alleged $100,000 diamond theft, was scheduled for Friday in superior court here.

Seltz applied for the writ today. He entered prison November 19, 1929. He was sent to a road camp near San Simeon for good behavior. Guards learned six weeks ago he was smuggling notes to a young Los Angeles woman, Seltz was brought back to San Quentin and put to work in the jute mill.

Mrs. J. F. Childs has returned to her home after a visit in the east.

"I am proud of the nation, do not understand the word 'fear'. Today more than ever France is determined not to yield the slightest right nor give in the essential conditions of her existence. We have sufficient material and force, therefore we do not need to fear that anyone will do anything to us."

WAR NURSE TO TELL STORY OF GRACE KILLING

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Nov. 14.—UP—The slaying of Francis J. M. Grace, 50, member of a noted shipping family, was described by his nurse today at the trial of a former nurse, Frieda Wilhelmina Weltz, 42, on a murder charge.

Comely Helene Roberts described the killing on the lawn of Grace's estate here, after Prosecutor J. Frank Murphy told the jury that Miss Weltz stalked Grace for several months before she deliberately killed him.

Miss Roberts said she and Grace were seated in the Grace garden when Miss Weltz approached, and Grace spoke to his former employer briefly.

"I went over to Miss Weltz and told her Mr. Grace was ill and that I wished she would go away," said Miss Roberts. "Then I went over to Mr. Grace and he arose and went back to talk to Miss Weltz, near the threshold of the house."

She said she heard a shot as the two talked in the shadows. Grace fell across the threshold. Miss Weltz offered no resistance when servants appeared and took a revolver from her.

Miss Roberts said nothing that would explain the motive for the shooting. The Auburn-haired former World War nurse said she would reveal that motive for the first time when she goes on the stand in her own defense.

Murphy charged that "on several occasions Miss Weltz rented a room overlooking Grace's home so she could keep track of the household. It was first degree premeditated murder and I shall ask for the death penalty."
